Dear ABC,

XYZ called today in the evening to tell me that you contacted a misfortune while going by car home on your scooter. I was wondering why you have not been approaching to the school for the last three days. Really, accept as true me. The school is just not the same charming place without you.

I am notified that the misfortune is not very serious, but I still seem very much caused anguish because your left arm has been somewhat fractured and is now in plaster. It will take at smallest a month before your plaster is taken. Express gratitude God, your elder male sibling is a doctor and he is in the identical clinic where you were taken directly after the misfortune by a juvenile man. It is an issue of large relief that you escaped with a secondary fracture.

I marvel if there is anything I can do at this juncture, although, I will come next week to glimpse you.

With best desires for speedy and complete recovery.

Yours faithfully,
