Dear Sonia,

I know you are desperately trying for contacting me. However my phone is not reachable as I am now residing in my native place. My father has recently gone through a heart attack and is ill. So I just received a call from my mom and had to catch a train for reaching my native place. However now he is fine and was also hospitalized for approximately two days.

I want to tell you a vital thing. As my father has recovered from the attack, so my parents are willing to see me settled to a girl who is residing here. She stays in my neighborhood. I have tried convincing my parents but all went in vain. I have to get married with her due to by father’s wish for his illness.

I have to accept this proposal. This is the only purpose of writing this letter to you. Please do not think me writing, I have to end this relationship. I do not have any other option. Please forgive me. And try to forget the memorable time which we had spent together.

Yours loving,

Sameer

Dear Rosy,

Hi, I hope so that you are fine. I am writing this letter for a very important matter. I have been transferred to Paris for my job. So I have decided to go there and would not return to return for some years. I would also like to tell you another thing, which is we have to end our relationship, as I cannot carry long distance relationships.

It is impossible to handle this relationship along with my job. I would be very busy over there so, if you do not misunderstand me, let’s be separate. You take care of yourself and please forgive me.

Yours lovingly,

Vikas
